

Company: Underscore Marketing

Place of employment: Krakow, Poland

Position: JUNIOR MARKETING ANALYST

A New York based interactive media agency with a newly set-up division in Krakow is looking for a candidate for the position of JUNIOR MARKETING ANALYST.

Main responsibilities:

- assistance in online advertising plans development,
- assistance in managing and performance analysis of online marketing campaigns,
- management of MS Excel and PowerPoint to communicate the conclusions,
- assistance in advertising reconciliations.

Employment conditions:

- interesting job in international environment,
- attractive salary,
- training and development opportunity,
- opportunity to participate in foundation of a new company,
- possibility to take training in the New York company headquarters.

Criteria to be met by candidates:

- Student status is an advantage
- excellent command of English (spoken and written),
- experience in marketing is a huge advantage,
- analytical skills, practical understanding of metrics,
- very good computer skills (MS Office, Excel fluency essential),
- discipline and attention to details,
- being able to work under deadline pressure.

If interested, please send your application (resume and cover letter including a statement of consent to use your personal data) to our e-mail address: poland@underscoremarketing.com

We kindly inform we will respond to selected applications only.

We do not send back received materials and documents.